Collection Title: The Millman Family Winter Wonderland Collection

Description:

Over the course of 30 years, the Millman Family has collected a veritable cornucopia of porcelain houses, figurines, and the like in the style of Dickens, specifically A Christmas Story. Naturally, a 5 year old child will add his own toys (crucially, from different manufacturers) to the diorama; as said individual remained at that age (mentally) for the ensuing 3 decades around Christmas time, the village has been augmented substantially over time on a periodic basis (usually once a year, when it happens). The scope of this project, however, will only be taking stock of the "forest area" of the diorama. The purpose of the project is to better organize the village for storage, as well as reference what exists in the collection already and should not be purchased.
